OUR VISION

With the goal and objectives in mind,
we envision a multi-purpose park and pavilion
on the shore of Commencement Bay.

We see a center where people of different cultures can express their arts and folklore.

We see a public space where children can come together, explore and celebrate their diverse backgrounds and common humanity.

We see people gathering on the shore of Puget Sound at this Tacoma landmark feeling welcome and proud of being a part of a united community.

ABOUT US

The Chinese Reconciliation Project Foundation (CRPF) is a non-profit organization that works to advance civic and cultural harmony. We engage in social and cultural dialog in order to build pathways to reconciliation. Through education, we broaden understanding and illuminate the commonalities of individuals within our community.

CRPF has truly been a labor of love for the last 20 years. We have worked with the City of Tacoma and the community to acknowledge and reconcile the forceful expulsion of 1885, which drove the Chinese population out of Tacoma. This exclusionary act was in response to complex conditions of the time, among them economic decline and anti-Chinese sentiment. The expulsion caused a great rift between the city and the Chinese people, an effect that is tangible and felt within the community even today.

Actively working to heal our community, the CRPF created the Tacoma Chinese Reconciliation Park. The park serves as a destination that educates people about the expulsion and spreads our message of hope, healing, and inclusivity. Using the park as a model of reconciliation, the CRPF aims to demonstrate how the process of reconciliation can generate positive change and inspire a united community, both locally and globally.
